Two hugely successful innovations of the FLEX ecosystem are FLEX:TRIAL devices and Log It All, but it's the personalized FLEX ecosystem of innovations that you can't get anywhere else. FLEX makes the experience of buying and wearing hearing aids easy, flexible and empowering.

- Better patient interactions that result in collaborative engagement and confident choices
- Conversations that maximize sharing and learning and minimize the “sales” aspect
- Best practices and customer service so you stand out from the competition

Perfect for today's changing patient

Today's patients demand the best in hearing performance. They look for customized solutions and technology that gives them independence and simplicity. In other words, they want the FLEX experience.

At Unitron we're changing the future of hearing aids and the entire hearing care experience

We believe the world would be a better place if people felt really good about the entire hearing experience. Our experience innovations and investment into service-driven technology is what makes Unitron the best choice for you and your patients.

Our promise: Love the experience™

Above and beyond world-class sound processing – Starting with the most powerful chip in the industry from Sonova, our uniquely Unitron technology development is driven by the promise of delivering hearing experiences that you will absolutely love with solutions like FLEX.

Award-winning product design – Hold a Unitron product in your hand and it's obvious why we've won multiple design awards. We push boundaries from what works to what works better.

Remarkable technology that sounds fantastic – 80% of patients hear better with the Tempus™ platform compared to other hearing aids.* Our patented Dynamic Spatial Awareness and intelligent SoundCore™ technology mean patients hear the best in conversations.

Outstanding customer service – We deliver great customer experience to you so you can provide a great experience to your patients.
